Walt Disney's ALICE in WONDERLAND

HELLO! This is the Walt Disney Storyteller, and I'm going to tell you the story of ALICE IN WONDERLAND, which you can follow in your book.

(HATTER) "Giggle"

Oh, that's the Mad Hatter. And every time he giggles . . .

(HATTER) "Giggle"

. . . in his Mad Hatter way, that's the signal for you to turn the page. Ready? Listen!

Once there was a little girl named Alice. One golden afternoon she wandered down to the riverbank with Dinah, her kitten . . .

(DINAH) MEOW

. . . and sat down under a tree beside the cool rippling water.

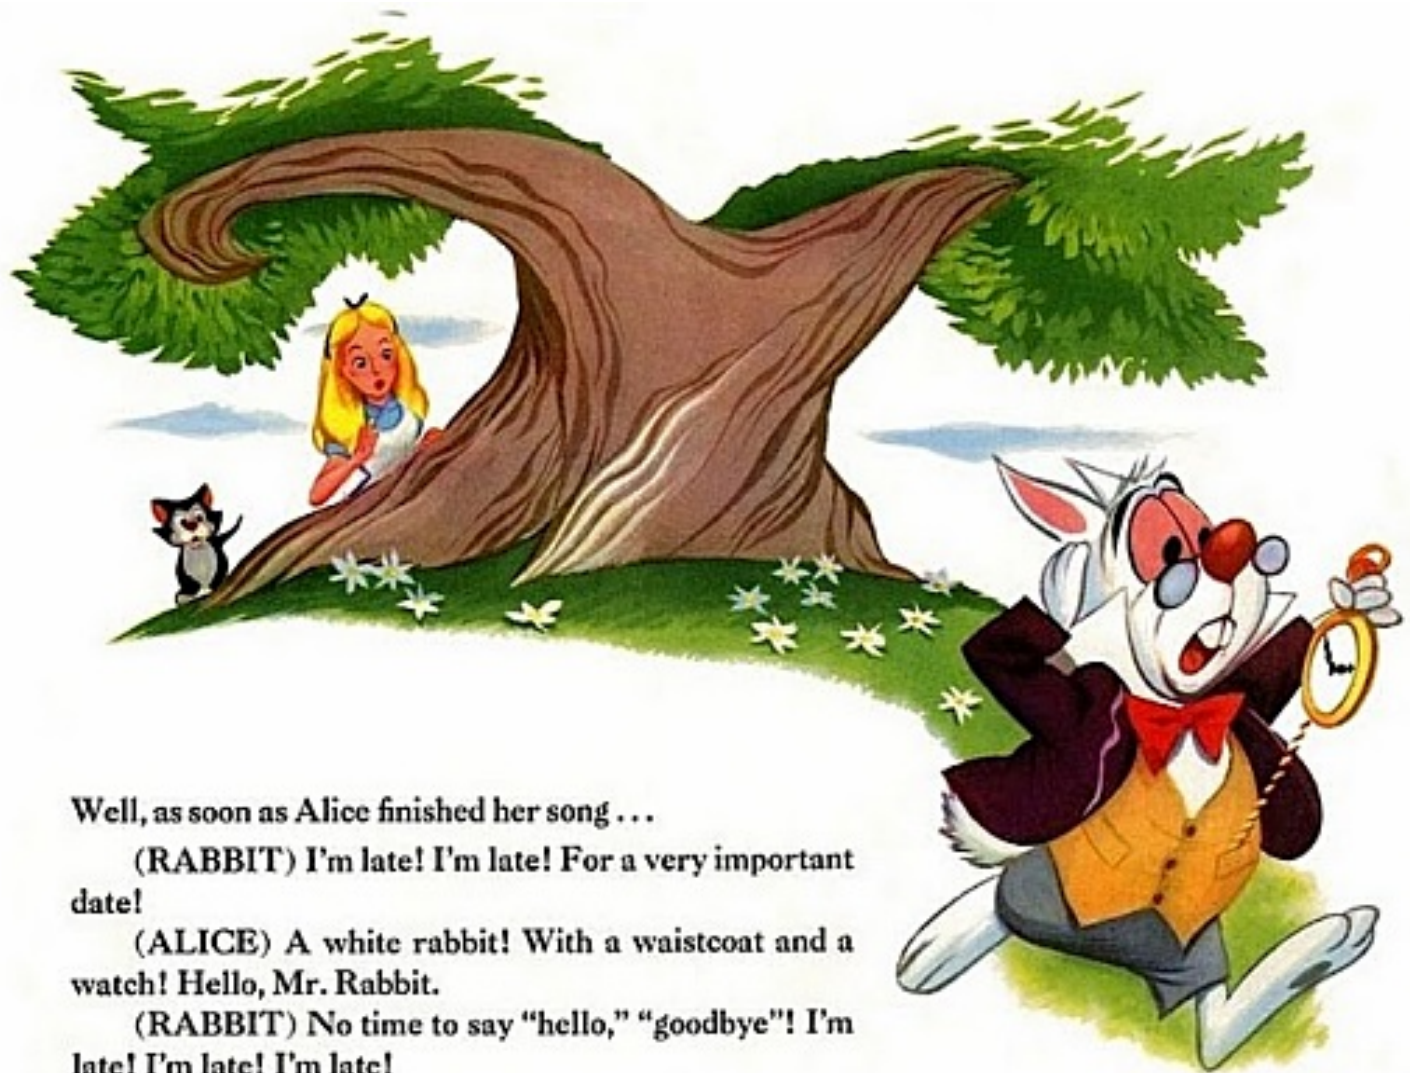

(ALICE) Ohh — — you know, Dinah, if this were a world of my own, things would be different. In my world . . .

(Alice sings "A World of My Own")

(HATTER) "Giggle"

That's right. That's the Mad Hatter's signal to turn the page.

Well, as soon as Alice finished her song . . .

(RABBIT) I'm late! I'm late! For a very important date!

(ALICE) A white rabbit! With a waistcoat and a watch! Hello, Mr. Rabbit.

(RABBIT) No time to say "hello," "goodbye"! I'm late! I'm late! I'm late!

(ALICE) How very curious! Oh, Mr. Rabbit. Wait!

(RABBIT) I'm overdue! I'm in a rabbit stew! Can't even say "goodbye," "hello"! I'm late! I'm late! I'm late! The rabbit disappeared into a big hole under a hedge and Alice popped in after him.

(ALICE) Oh, Mr. Rabbit. Mr. Rab...
Oh! Hellllp!

Dinah! I'm f-a-l-l-i-n-g!

Goodness! I wonder if I'll fall right through the center of the earth and come out on the other side!

(HATTER) "Giggle"

When Alice finally landed, she found herself sitting in front of a little door, just about rabbit size!

(ALICE) How will I ever get through? Perhaps if I turn the knob . . .

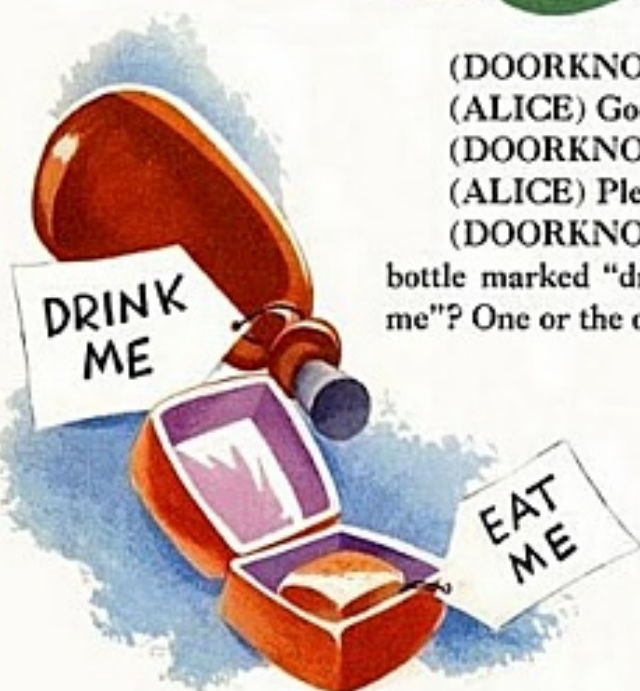

(DOORKNOB) Ouch!

(ALICE) Goodness! A live doorknob!

(DOORKNOB) You gave me quite a turn.

(ALICE) Please, I must get through!

(DOORKNOB) You're much too big. See the bottle marked "drink me," and a cookie marked "eat me"? One or the other will make you the right size.

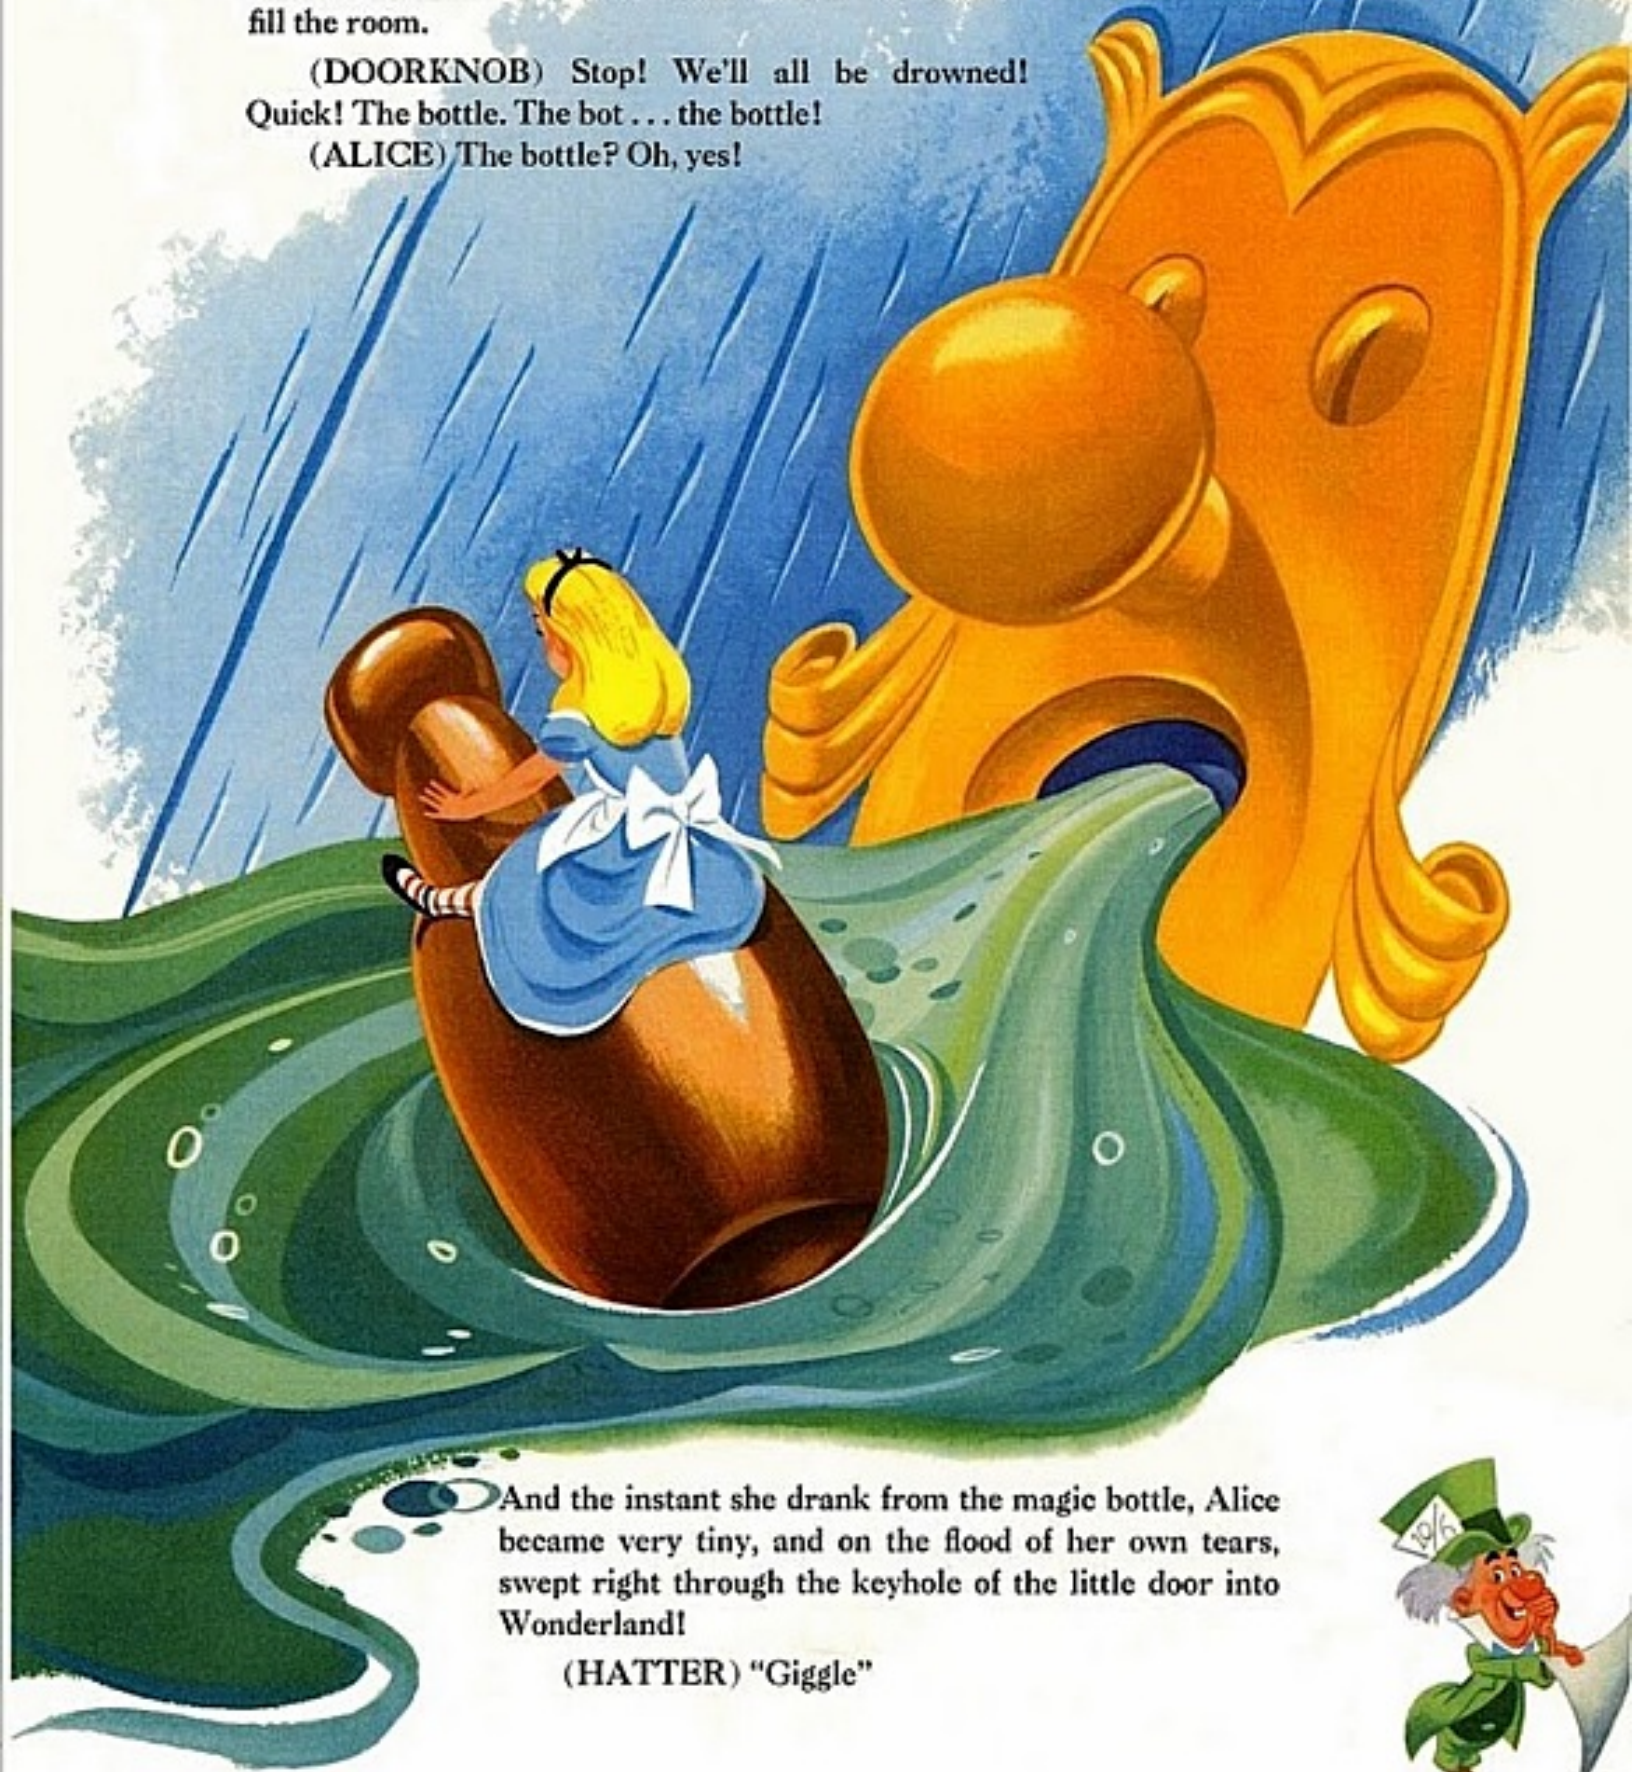

(ALICE) Hmm. I think I'll try the cookie first. Goodness! I'm growing bigger . . . and bigger still. Oh now . . . now I'll never get through!

Poor Alice! She was a giant, and her giant tears began to fill the room.

(DOORKNOB) Stop! We'll all be drowned! Quick! The bottle. The bot . . . the bottle!

(ALICE) The bottle? Oh, yes!

And the instant she drank from the magic bottle, Alice became very tiny, and on the flood of her own tears, swept right through the keyhole of the little door into Wonderland!

(HATTER) "Giggle"

When Alice landed in Wonderland, she was soaking wet.

(DODO) Only one way to get dry. Run a Caucus Race.

(ALICE) Who . . . who are you?

(DODO) The Dodo. No time to lose.

(Dodo sings "The Caucus Race")

(ALICE) Oh! Oh, I'm dry again, but . . . but who are those two little funny fat men???

(DEE) I'm Tweedledee!

(DUM) I'm Tweedledum!

(Dee and Dum sing "How Do You Do")

(ALICE) My name is Alice, and I'm following a white rabbit.

(DEE AND DUM) Why?

(ALICE) Well, because I'm curious.

(DEE) O-o-h! The oysters were curious, too, and look what happened to them!

(ALICE) What did happen to the oysters?

(DUM) The Walrus and the Carpenter invited the oysters for a walk, then ate them up!

(ALICE) Ooooh!

(DEE) And when they finished eating, what do you think the Walrus said?

(Dee and Dum sing "The Walrus and the Carpenter")

And the little men went bouncing off into the forest.

(ALICE) Well! How very odd!

(HATTER) "Giggle"

(RABBIT) I'm late! I'm late! For a very important date!

(ALICE) Oh! The white rabbit again. Mr. Rabbit! Off Alice went. The rabbit disappeared, but Alice stumbled into a beautiful flower garden.

(ALICE) Well, this is curious. The flowers are singing.

(The Flowers sing "In A Golden Afternoon")

(ALICE) Oh, that was lovely!

(1st FLOWER) What? Who are you?

(ALICE) I'm Alice, and I...

(2nd FLOWER) What's an "Alice"? Looks like a wildflower to me!

(1st FLOWER) Are those petals?

(ALICE) No. That's my apron.

(2nd FLOWER) Just look at those awful stems!

(ALICE) Stop! Stop! Please! Those are my legs, and I'm not a flower!

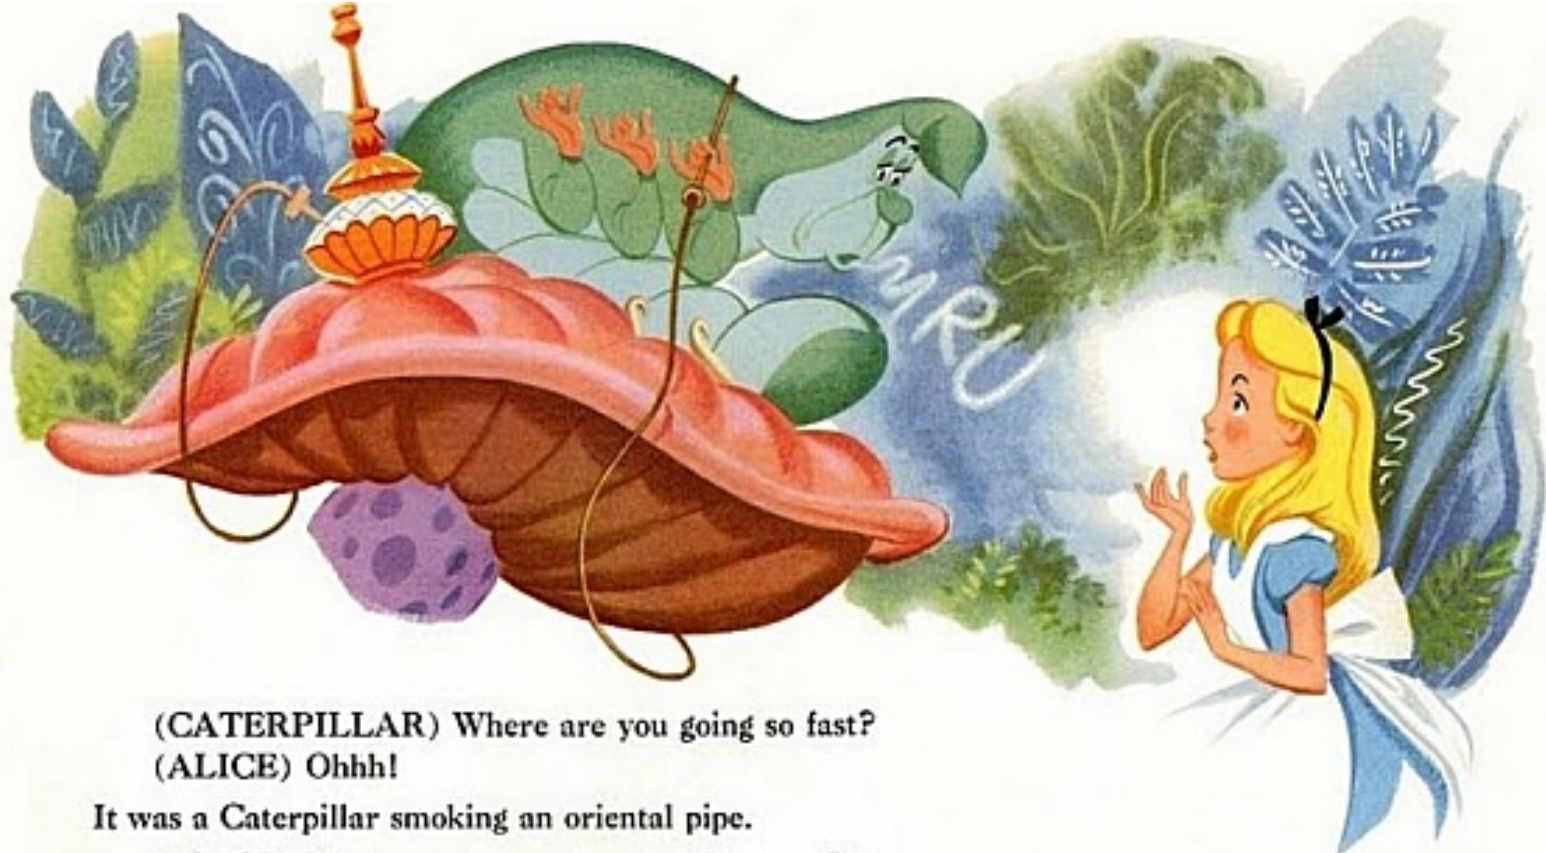

(1st FLOWER) Well, then, you must be a weed!

Poor Alice! The dogwood barked at her, the dandelions and the tigerlilies roared at her!

(ALICE) No...no...no...please! I'll go! I'll leave the garden as fast as my legs can carry me!

(HATTER) "Giggle"

(CATERPILLAR) Where are you going so fast?

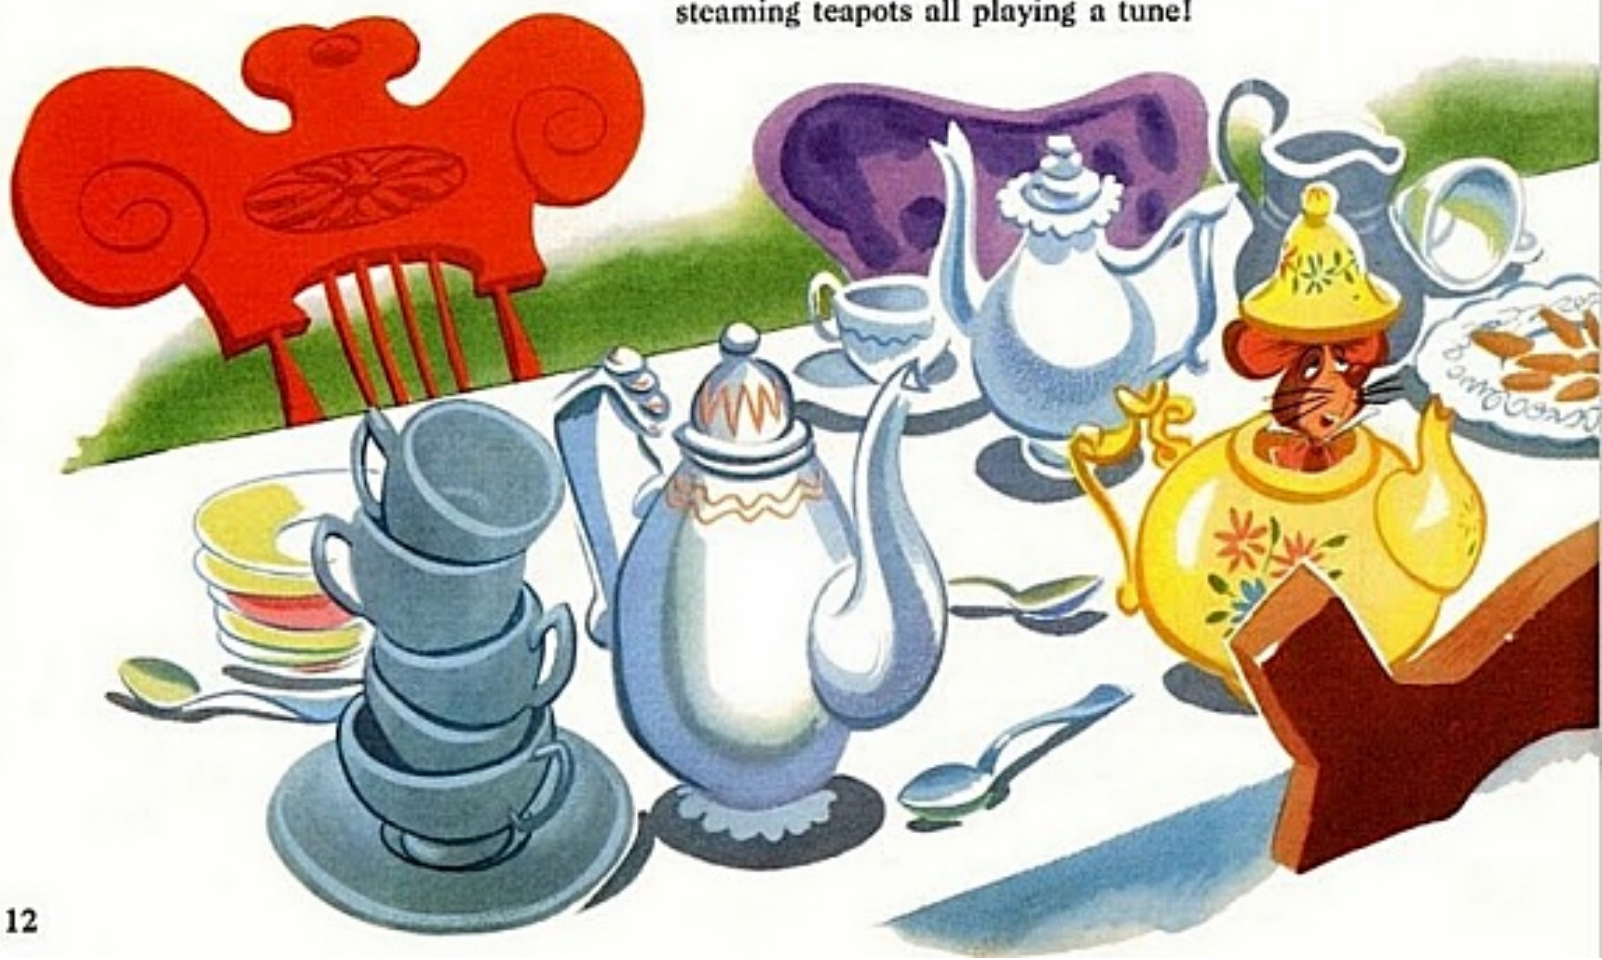

(ALICE) Ohhh!

It was a Caterpillar smoking an oriental pipe.

(ALICE) Must . . . you . . . smoke? I'm . . . I'm looking for a white rabbit.

(CATERPILLAR) Ask someone at the Tea Party. Over there.

Soon Alice came upon a long tea-table, covered with steaming teapots all playing a tune!

(HATTER)
I'm the Mad Hatter.
(HARE) I'm the
March Hare.
We're having an unbirthday party.

(ALICE) An *un*birthday party? What's that?
(HATTER) Well, there are 365 days in a year, but only one is your birthday. All the rest are your *un*birthdays.

(ALICE) Oh! Then today is my *un*birthday too.

(HATTER AND HARE) It is?

(Hatter and Hare sing "The Unbirthday Song")

(ALICE) Oh, thank you. Oh! Here comes the white rabbit again!

(RABBIT) Oh, my fur and whiskers! I'm late! I'm late! For a very important date!

(HATTER) "Giggle"

(HATTER) Rabbit! Wait! Let me see that watch of yours. Oh, well, no wonder you're late! This watch is two days slow! But I'll fix it. (CRASH!!!)

(ALICE) Oh my goodness... you certainly FIXED it, didn't you, Mr. Mad Hatter? Oh, the rabbit is rushing off again!

(RABBIT) No time to wait!
I'm very, very late!
"Hello," "goodbye"—
"goodbye," "Hello."
I'm late! I'm late! I'm late!

(ALICE) Oh, Mr. Rabbit! Wait for me!

When Alice finally stopped for breath, the rabbit was nowhere in sight.

(ALICE) Oh dear! I must be lost. It would have been good advice not to come here at all, but . . .

(Alice sings "Very Good Advice")

(ALICE) . . . Oh dear . . . I'll never learn . . . to do the things . . . I should.

(HATTER) "Giggle"

And now Alice heard a strange song. The words just didn't make sense.

(Cheshire Cat sings " 'Twas Brillig")

Alice looked up.

(ALICE) Oh!

There on a branch over her head was a grin. That's right! Just a smile—with no face around it!

(ALICE) How very curious!

But now something appeared around the grin.

(ALICE) A face . . . a body! Why it's only a cat! A Cheshire Cat!

(CHESHIRE CAT) Hello, little girl.

(ALICE) Please, Mr. Cat, I do want to go home, but I can't seem to find my way!

(CHESHIRE CAT) Your way? All ways here are the Queen's ways!

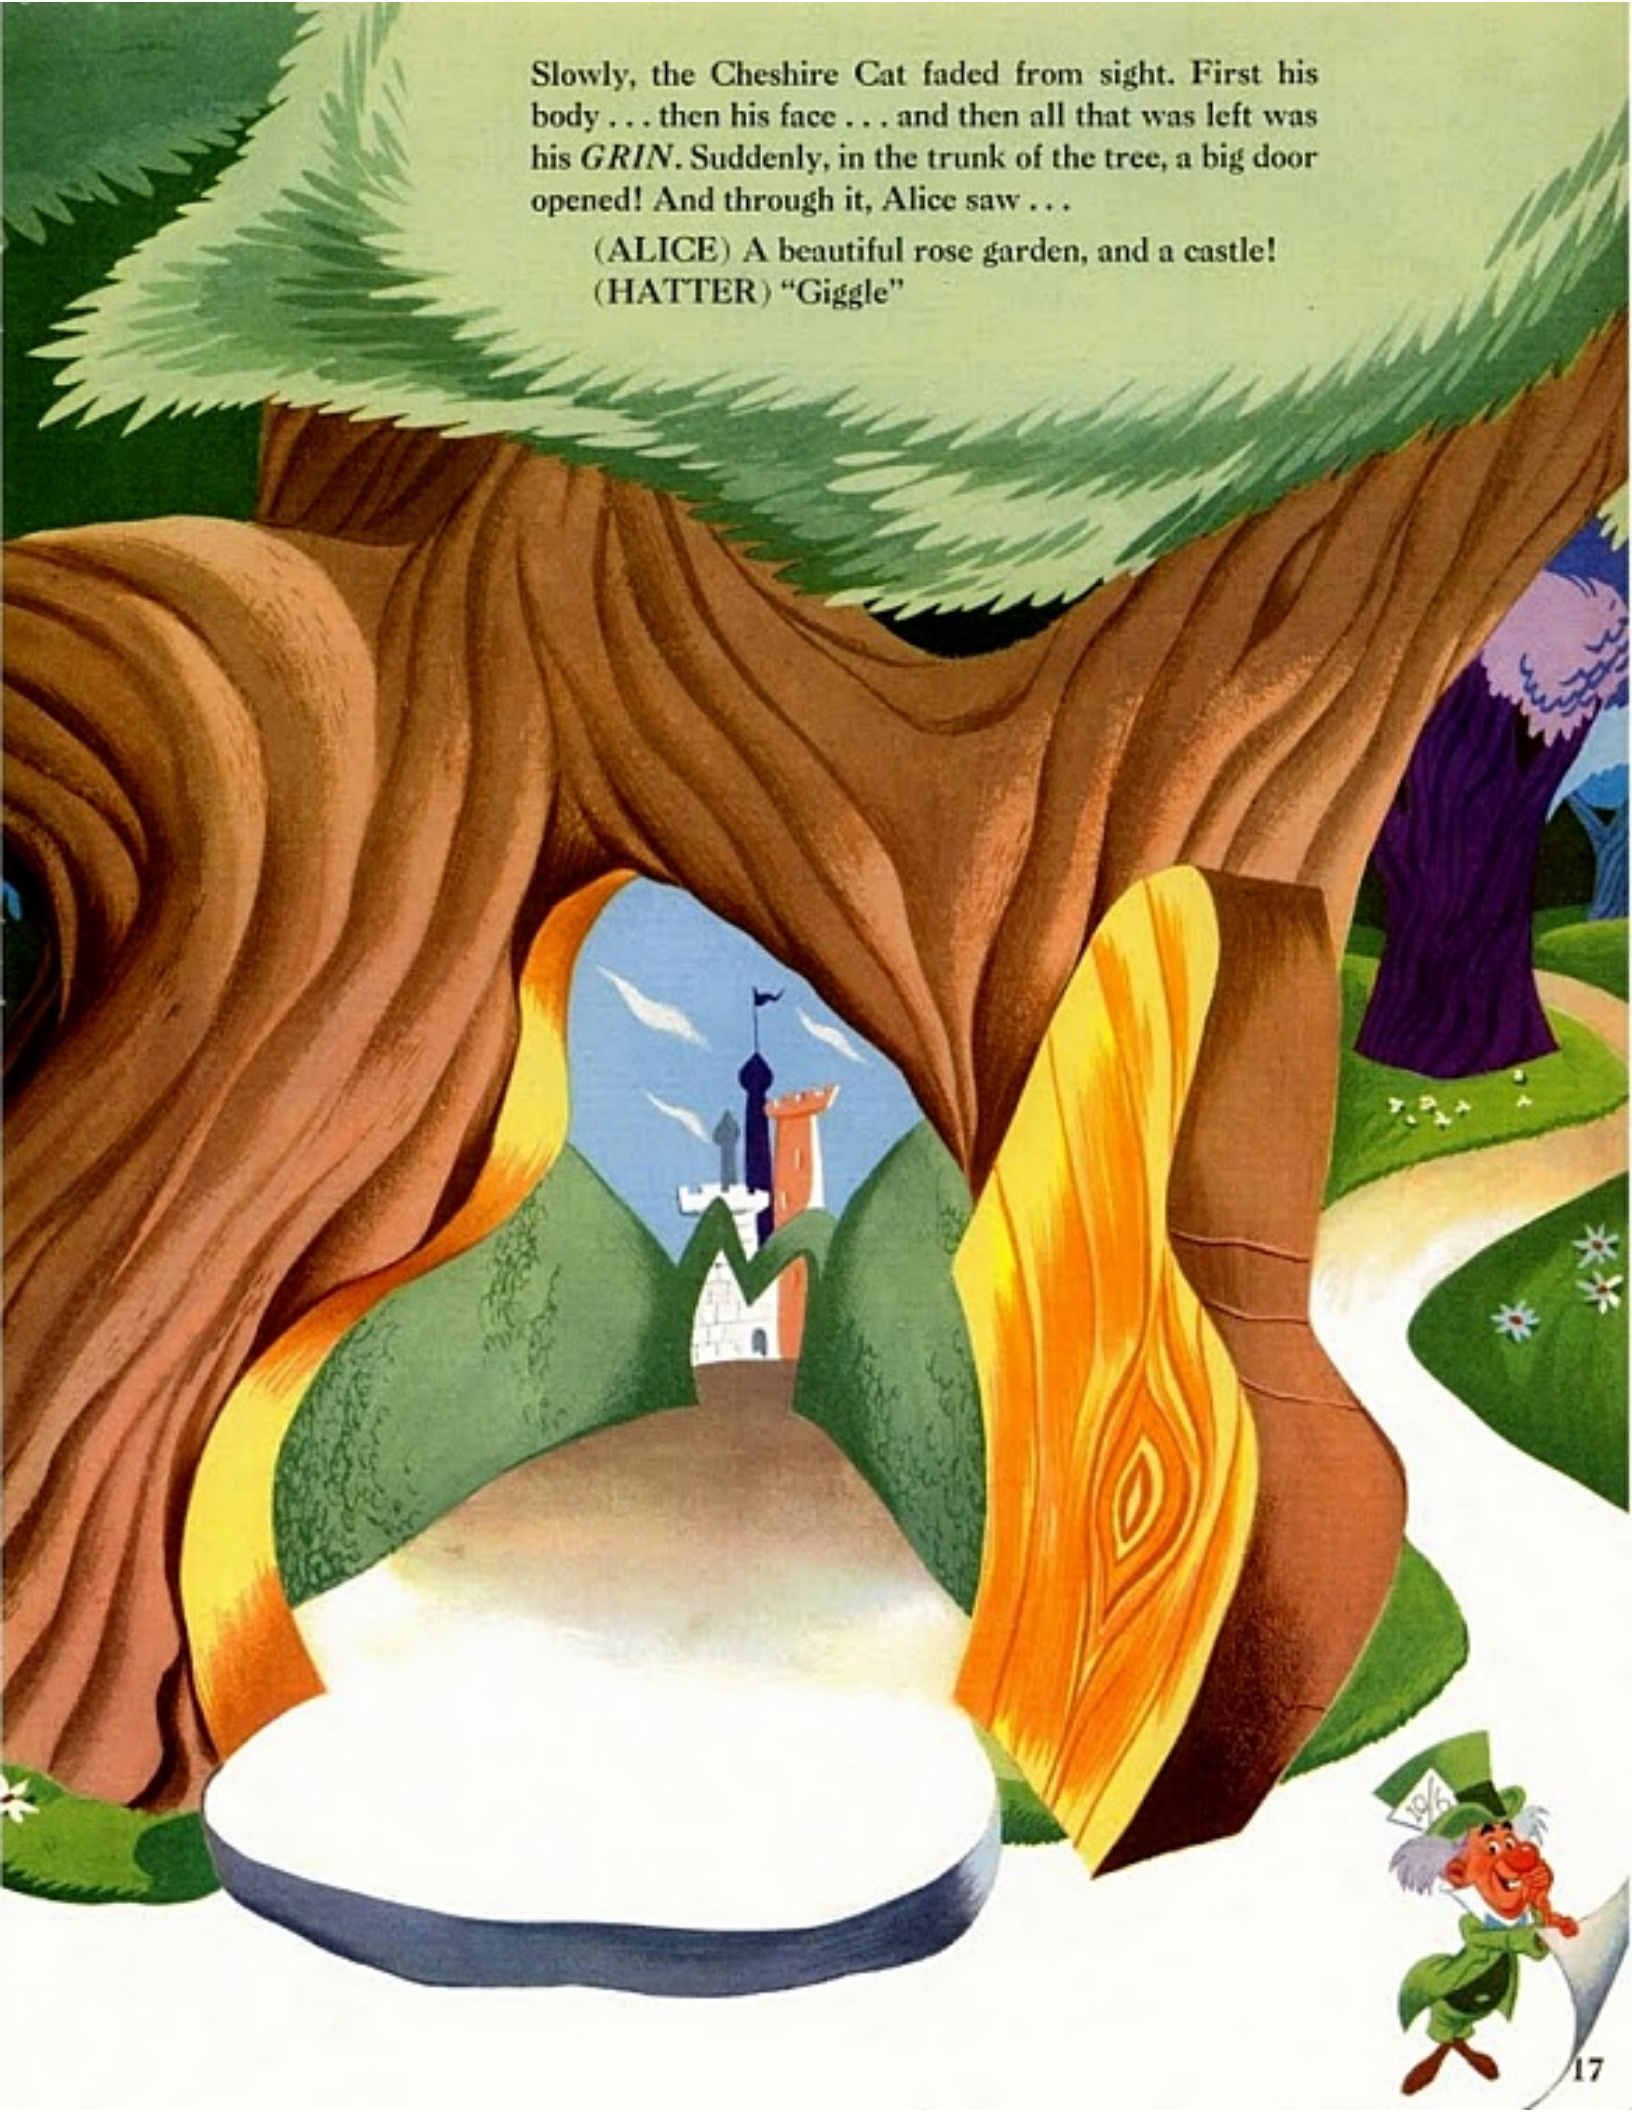

(ALICE) But, what Queen?

(CHESHIRE CAT) The Queen of Hearts! Just take the short cut through the tree. You'll find her!

Slowly, the Cheshire Cat faded from sight. First his body . . . then his face . . . and then all that was left was his GRIN. Suddenly, in the trunk of the tree, a big door opened! And through it, Alice saw . . .

(ALICE) A beautiful rose garden, and a castle!

(HATTER) "Giggle"

In a corner of the rose garden, Alice saw three gardeners.

(ALICE) They're dressed like playing cards, and they're painting a white rose-bush red!

(Card Gardeners sing "Painting the Roses Red")

(ALICE) Oh, my goodness! I'd better help you.

Alice started to paint, too, and then . . .

(ALICE) The White Rabbit, blowing a trumpet. I wonder what he's doing here?

(RABBIT) Introducing Her Majesty, the Queen of Hearts!

(ALICE) The Queen of Hearts! She's surrounded by her card soldiers. Oh! They're marching this way!

(QUEEN) HARRRUMMPH! Who has been painting my roses red? Off with their heads!

(GARDENERS) Oh, no, Your Majesty! Please!

(ALICE) Oh, please, Your Majesty!

(QUEEN) And who are you???

(ALICE) Oh, I'm Alice, Your Majesty.

(QUEEN) Alice? Hoh, well . . . do you play croquet?

(ALICE) Why, I think so.

(QUEEN) Good. That Flamingo is your croquet stick.

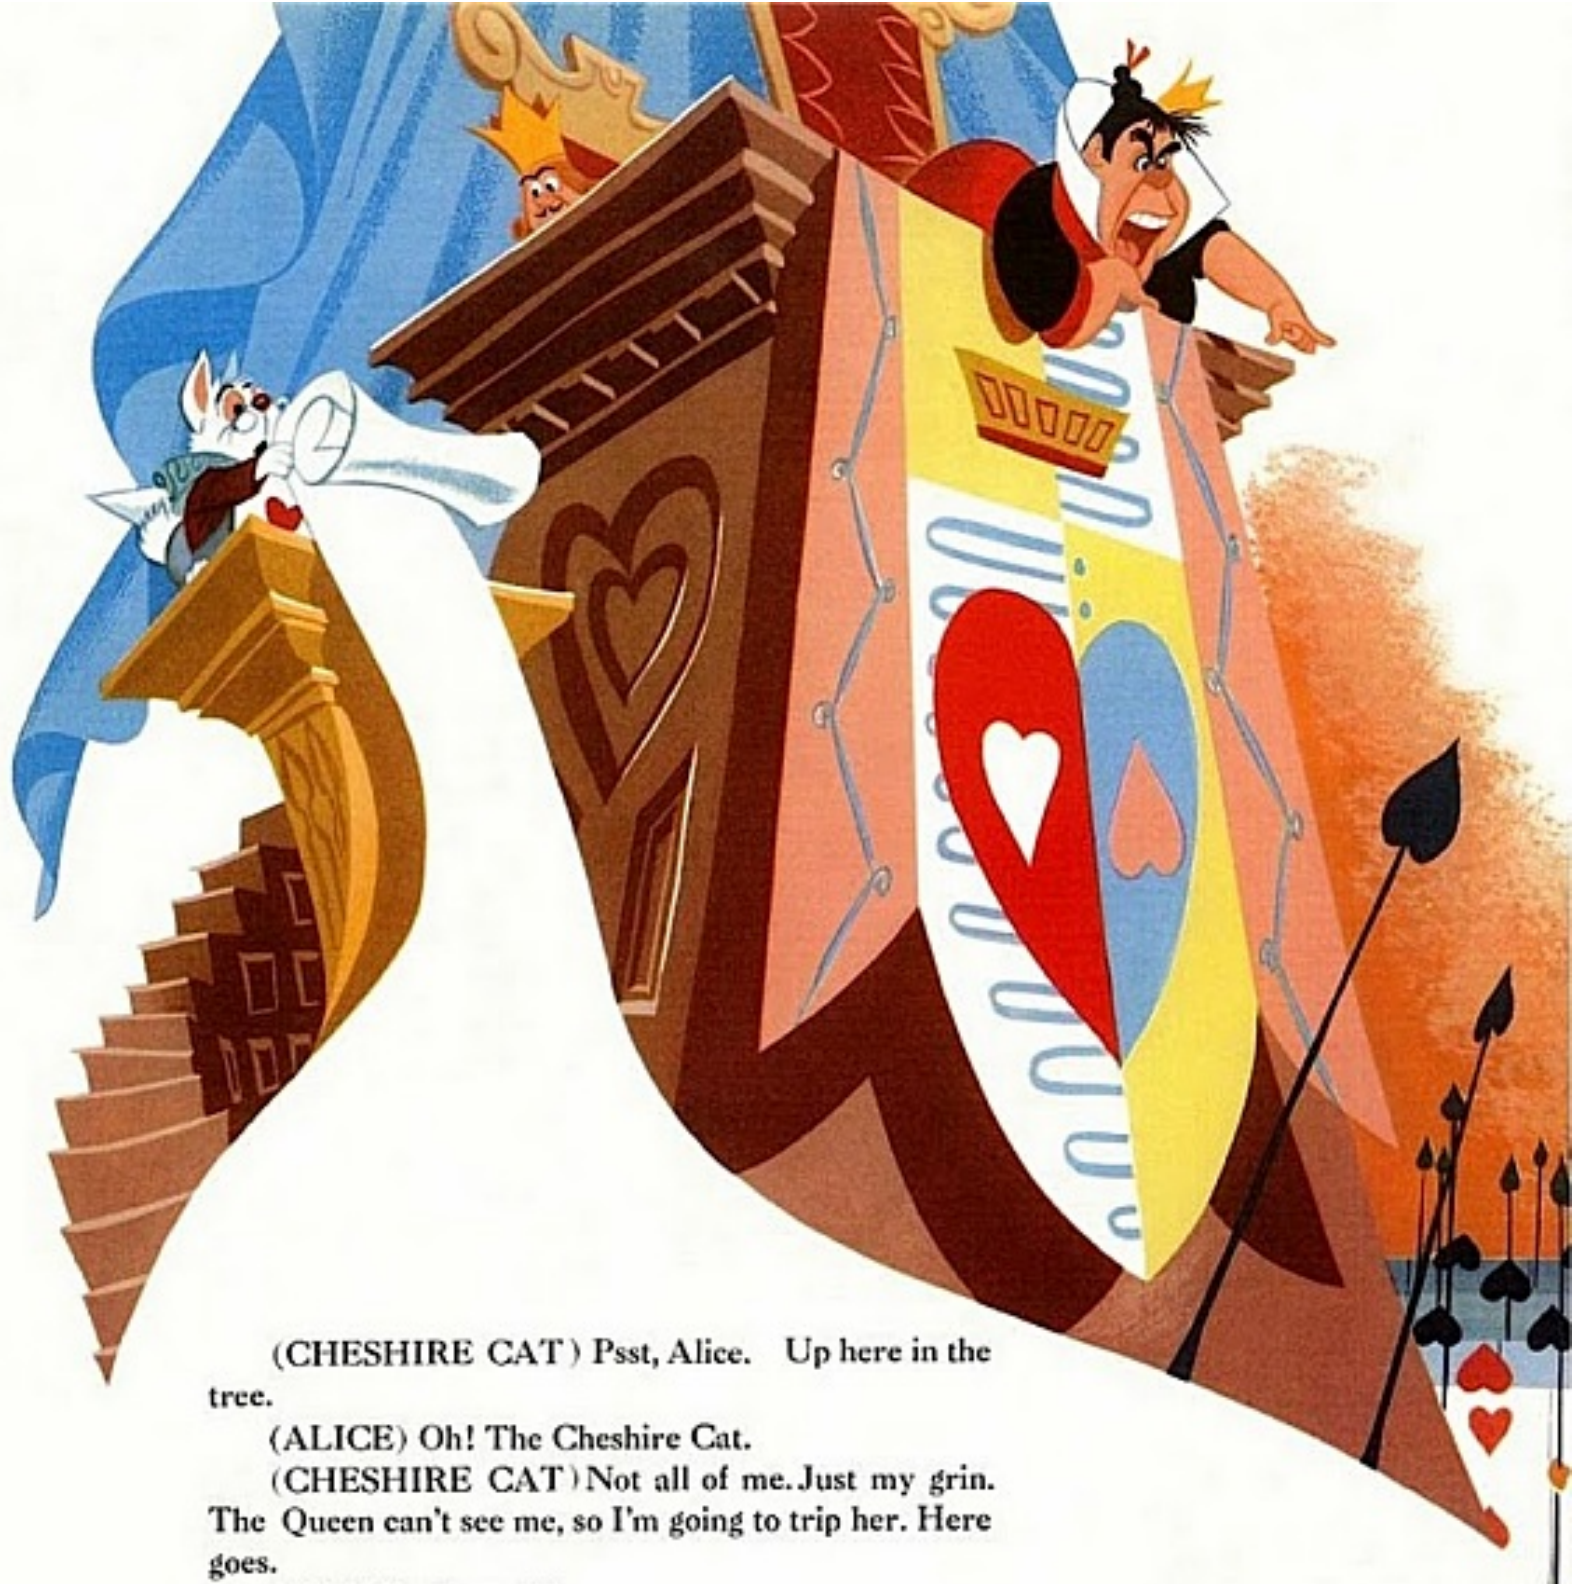

(FLAMINGO) SQUAWK SQUAWK

(QUEEN) And that hedgehog is the ball.

(ALICE) Huh . . . what a way to play croquet.

(HATTER) "Giggle"

(CHESHIRE CAT) Psst, Alice. Up here in the tree.

(ALICE) Oh! The Cheshire Cat.

(CHESHIRE CAT) Not all of me. Just my grin. The Queen can't see me, so I'm going to trip her. Here goes.

(ALICE) Oh, no!!!

(QUEEN) You tripped me, Alice. OFF WITH YOUR HEAD.

(ALICE) Oh, no, you can't. I must have a trial first!

(QUEEN) Very well! Let the trial begin!

(RABBIT) Hear ye! Hear ye! For tormenting and annoying the Queen, Alice must lose her head!

(ALICE) The white rabbit again! So that's where he was going in such a hurry—to my trial!

(RABBIT) First witnesses, Tweedledum and Tweedledee!

(DEE AND DUM) "Callay calloo, calloo callay, we're cabbages and kings!"

(QUEEN) Jury, that's important. Write that down.

(RABBIT) The Mad Hatter!

(QUEEN) What do you know about this!

(HATTER) Oh, nothing.

(QUEEN) Nothing! Huh—well . . . that's important.
Jury, write that down.

(HATTER) Except it happened on your *un*birthday.

(QUEEN) Oh, today is my *un*birthday?

(HATTER) Of course.

(QUEEN) Well . . .

(Hatter sings "The Unbirthday Song")

(QUEEN) That's enough. Alice is guilty. Off with her head!

(HATTER)
"Giggle"

Suddenly, the Cheshire Cat whispered into her ear.

(CHESHIRE CAT) Here's a mushroom. One side will make you grow big—the other side, tiny. I don't know which will do what, so eat it all!

Alice popped the mushroom into her mouth. And first she grew large...

(ALICE) Aha! Now I'll show you, Queen of Hearts!

(QUEEN) Oh! Oh no! Not guilty!

But then Alice grew small...

(QUEEN) Aha! Now I'll show you!

The Queen began shaking Alice very hard.

(ALICE) Oh... oh dear. I wish... I wish this were only a dream!

And that's all it was. Just a dream. And when Alice woke up, she was near the riverbank again with Dinah, her cat.

(DINAH) MEOW

(ALICE) Oh, thank goodness!

And hopping down the path, she saw...

(ALICE) A white rabbit! I wonder where he's going?

And then—remembering her dream...

(ALICE) Oh!—I'd love to follow that rabbit—but no! We're going home, Dinah—even though I keep wishing...

(Alice sings "A World of My Own")

(ALICE) Goodbye.

(HATTER) Goodbye.
